

CARE: transforming values through art, ethics and feminism

A free interdisciplinary symposium at the George Paton Gallery, University of Melbourne

Wednesday 30 October to Saturday 2 November

Vegan lunch provided and childcare on request

Join us for four days of talks, performances, workshops, and artworks, with over 50 artists, activists, writers, researchers, dancers and performers from around Australia who are thinking and practicing care in inspiring ways. Perspectives include animal and environmental ethics, alternative economic models, death literacy advocacy, progressive pedagogies, parenting and mothering, deep listening, mental health, disability, craftivism, and many more.

The Care project is driven by the desire to forge an alternative ethics to counter the harm that neo-liberal practices are causing to all aspects of life. If care 'includes everything we do to maintain, continue, and repair our world – our interwoven bodies, selves and environment – so that we may live in it as well as possible', then care should be at the centre of our politics.

Participants include: Jacqueline Millner – Caroline Phillips – Kylie Banyard – Zoe Freney – Jodie Goldring – Joanne Makas – Rachael Haynes – Linda Judge – Elizabeth Savage Kooronya – Sarah Rudledge – Kerryn Sylvia – Hartmut Veit – Hayley West – Linda Wilken – Su Yang – Sonia Zymantas – Liz Day – Hadeel Abdelhameed – Fiona Harrisson – Andrew Goodman & Alexis Harley – Veronica Caven Aldous – Nancy Mauro-Flude & Kate Geck – Jude Walton & Alice Cummins – Glenda Hambly – Azza Zein – Joan Garvan – Benison Kilby – Julie Louise Bacon – Louisa Bufardeci – Claire Field – Carolyn Craig – Nina Ross & Jessie Scott – Tal Fitzpatrick – Kelum Palipane – Zac Millner-Cretney – The Last Collective (Beth Arnold, Melanie Irwin, Katie Lee, Clare Rae & Hanna Tai) – Katharine McKinnon – Kate Mullen – Katrina Rank – Jane Trengove – Catherine Bell – Pie Rankine – Susan Long – Illimine Collective (Majella Thomas and Michael Angelucci) – Sylvia Griffin – Luci Callipari-Marcuzzo – Cathy Parry – FavourEconomy
